

Vectra X2 Stage Line - Steve Fearson

Incredibly strong yet remarkably hard to detect, Vectra X2 Stage Line is some of the most useful thread you'll ever own. Don't be fooled by the name. Even if you've never set foot on a stage, you're bound to find a use for this amazing and versatile thread! X2 is a very strong, dead black monofilament that goes completely invisible from just a few feet away under proper conditions. Twice as strong as the original Vectra Line, Vectra X2 is the best choice when you need something even stronger but still highly invisible. On stage, it's a DREAM. It's strong enough to lift large objects like floating balls, magic wands, soda cans, you name it. It's also strong enough to do other things like slam doors, make things move and knock over heavy objects. But it's INVISIBLE enough to use just a few feet from your audience... and WITHOUT A BACKDROP! Check it out: Breathe some new life into old effects and devices that use an easy to spot monofilament or string by replacing it with X2. You won't believe the difference! (Wondering which thread is right for you? Compare our threads) X2 does not need to be separated or stripped down, it arrives ready to use. You receive OVER 500 FEET of Vectra X2 Line on a convenient spool.

We highly recommend Master Wax by Steve Fearson (available separately). Just one tiny pellet of this amazing wax is connecting the ring to the decks in the demo video. The wax is supporting the entire weight of two decks! Fearson's Master Wax is the strongest magician's wax available, a must for high-end thread work.
