PLEASE NOTE

- Coins and decks come in varying thicknesses and the combination of the two might be too thick to display in a Carat Case. The best way to see if your coin and deck will work is to put a deck inside a case and the coin on top of it. If the lid closes normally, then it is OK, but if the lid doesn't close completely or properly, it most likely won't work and it's best not to try and force it.
- Coins aren't always the exact size that the creator states and sometimes the coin is larger than its stated size, in which case, the coin might be a little tight in the insert
