

FULTON'S GUNSMOKE PLAYING CARDS

The long awaited Fulton's take on the Western Genre. A modern classic.

Illustrated by Ethan Kowaleski to showcase the love of the western genre so important to designer Brad Fulton. Printed in classic "Stud Blue" --this is sure to be a poker table favorite for years to come. No expense was spared in creating a timeless deck of cards.

The tuck box on these is particularly epic in hand. From custom embossing to metallic Pantone Ink, you'll enjoy finding something new each time you reach for these. Make sure to check out the long flap which has been squared at the corners in a nod to a certain favorite of Fulton.

Printed in China on premium cardistry thin-stock for maximum pliability and durability.
