

ARRCO (Red) - Pokerdeck

Originally printed by the Arrco Playing Card Company in Chicago, Illinois-known as the Arrow Playing Card Company from the 1920s through 1935-ARRCO Playing Cards have long been favored by magicians, cardists, and collectors. The company was acquired by the United States Playing Card Company (USPCC) in 1987, and the final standard printing of the ARRCO deck occurred in 2011.

Now faithfully restored to its original charm, with a few modern updates to suit today's performers and enthusiasts.

Why ARRCO?

ARRCO decks are celebrated for their exceptional handling, timeless design, and reliability in performance settings. They are a true worker's deck, striking the perfect balance between function and classic appeal.

What's New in This Reprint?

While maintaining the original ARRCO face design, we've included:

- Two gaff cards for magicians
- Modified tuck case to match current USPCC legal standards and die lines
- Tuck tab reveal for added magical potential
- Updated text on the side and bottom panels
- Though the Jokers say, "Plastic Coated", these decks actually feature USPCC's premium Magic Finish for enhanced feel and durability.

Deck Specifications:

- Available in red and blue
- Printed in the USA by USPCC
- Classic stock with embossed (air-cushion) finish and thin crushed
- Traditional cut for smoother faros and easier handling
- Standard ARRCO faces
- Includes 2 Jokers + 2 gaff cards
- USPCC tuck seals

Whether you're a magician, cardist, poker player, or collector, this ARRCO reprint is a must-have piece of playing card history.
