

Bicycle Laboratory 3000 - Pokerdeck

Step into the world of Bicycle Laboratory 3000, a deck of cards that seems to have emerged straight from a futuristic laboratory. Here, science and mystery have merged: symbols have mutated, and strange creatures from beyond appear to have left their mark on every card.

But where do these creatures really come from? Their existence dates back much further than the year 3000... They are said to be the result of experiments conducted in a laboratory forgotten for centuries. Their names have been lost to time, erased from records, as if those who created them wanted to conceal their research. Yet, some clues remain...

Each card in this deck holds remnants of an enigmatic past. Symbols, traces of experimentation, anomalies that only the most observant will notice. Some even claim that this deck was never meant to leave the lab... that it somehow leaked from a top-secret research facility.

The Bicycle Laboratory 3000 is not just a deck of cards. It is an unfinished experiment, a fragment of a greater mystery... Will you be able to uncover its secrets?
