

Seven Wonders of the World by Nikolas Mavresis

Take your spectators on a mental adventure to the Seven Wonders of the World! You introduce a packet of cards, each featuring a famous landmark and a single prediction card which is placed aside. You then invite your participant to choose one destination completely at random. You then show what's on the back of the prediction card, showing a QR code.

When your spectator scans the QR code using their OWN phone, they'll be stunned to see a short video of the landmark they've chosen, proving that you predicted their journey-without them ever saying a word!

This routine is perfect for adding a personal, interactive touch to your performance, engaging your audience in a fun, tech-savvy way.

NOTE: No magic apps or fancy tech required - all you need is your spectator's phone with Wi-Fi or mobile data (4G/5G) switched on, and you're ready to amaze!
