

The Conjurer T-Shirt by TCC & GBDL (Black XXLarge)

In collaboration with GBDL - This is the Conjurer T-shirt.

The Conjurer shares similarities with The Card Pickers as it draws inspiration from classic oil paintings, a theme familiar to regular audiences.

The Conjurer features a magician performing the classic Cup and Ball magic trick, inspired by none other than the Dutch painter from the 15th century, Hieronymus Bosch.

Zuming envisioned using the details from the painting to craft a prediction effect that stands out from the commonplace.

Traditional prediction effects often involve playing cards, ESP, and clothing-based magic products, which constitute about 90% of such effects. However, these methods can be somewhat predictable and lack the surprise element modern audience's desire.

The Conjurer aligns perfectly with Zuming's mission to break away from traditional prediction methods and resonates with the design philosophy of GBDL, emphasizing originality, beauty, cleverness, uniqueness, and the creation of mind-bending magic. Unlike The Card Pickers, which captivates with visual impact, The Conjurer centers around mentalism.

With borrowed elements from the oil painting, you can perform a classic and distinctive prediction trick involving three everyday objects: keys, a cup, and a paper ball.

Features

- 210g heavy cotton fabric.
- Seamless barrel stitching. Pressure-creased shoulders.
- Utilizes thermosetting ink printing technology for a lifelike appearance.
- Available in Black and White and various sizes.

Includes

- 1x Conjurer T-Shirt.

- Online Video Tutorial.