

Lock Box by Vincenzo Di Fatta

This beautiful version is made with a brand-new system designed by Vincenzo Di Fatta, which, compared to the traditional version, allows for a thorough inspection of the large box.

Without the supplied gimmick, it will be absolutely impossible for spectators to discover the secret!

Borrow a ring, a watch, or another item from a spectator. Make it vanish and then present a beautiful wooden box.

The box is completely closed and secured with a padlock. Hand it freely to the spectators, there's nothing suspicious to be found. You can even give them the keys to the padlock and let them open it themselves. Inside the box, the spectator will find a smaller box and... upon opening that as well, they'll find their very own personal item.
