

Hypnotic Triangle

The magician threads a small metal triangle onto a chain, demonstrating how it slides freely on it. But then, he suddenly commands the triangle to stop, and it mysteriously freezes in place defying gravity! With just another command, the triangle instantly glides down the chain once again.

This astonishing effect can be repeated many times, leaving spectators completely baffled. The triangle is always under the magician's complete control. At the end, both the triangle and chain can be handed out for examination. There's nothing unusual to be found, and it will be impossible for the spectators to repeat what they just witnessed.

Always keep it in your pocket!

- The stop command can also be given by the audience.
- The whole thing can be given to check and this makes the game even more mysterious.
- The move to prepare the triangle, or to give it to check, takes ONE SECOND and is done in front of the unaware spectator.
