

Nankin Tamasudare by Martin Lewis

If you are interested in the bamboo mat manipulation, Nankin Tamasudare, then you have come to the right place! I make the prop the pro's use. Ken Scott, Richard Hatch, Phil Ackerly, Dale Lorzo, Bill Cook (from Wizard Wars,) all feature my version in their shows as do many others.

No other makers comes close, this one is bigger and brighter, stronger, easier to work, faster and more reliable in action than any of our competitors at home or abroad. I have been making and using them since 1986 and promise them to be smoother and more fluid in action than any others available on the market today, and don't forget, this one carries Magikraft Studios unconditional guarantee, if it breaks we fix it, no questions asked!

But the real value of buying this version is that when you buy from me you get my DVD that includes a strong professional presentation along with clear and detailed handling instruction and includes three different choices of music ranging from traditional to contemporary plus a charming Japanese girls introductory narration - all of which offer you flexibility of presentation.

I also give a thorough explanation of the history, care, and maintenance of the prop of course.

I closed my act with Nankin Tamasudare for many years and it is still the most remarked upon item in my show, I find people both charmed and entertained by this dramatic piece of theater, which promises to take your audience to another time and place. So, if you want to put something different into your act this is it.
