

Paul's Balls by Paul Martin and Alan Wong

Created by one of the UK's busiest working magicians, Paul Martin, Paul's Balls is a great trick that can be used anytime in your act. Not just for stage, you can also use this effect for close up and walk-around too. If you wanted to do a lottery prediction type effect but was unable to buy or justify spending heaps of money on a "device," then you can't go wrong with Paul's Balls. Produced by Alan Wong.

This effect has everything; drama, magic, mind reading and audience participation. The presentation is entirely hands off!

Comes complete with pocket sized lottery book, routine, gags and performance rights.

"Paul's Balls are Big! ...Really Big ...trust me."

- David Stone

"I love this trick, it has gone straight in my working act! It's so easy to do."

- Etienne Pradier

"Paul's created a frighteningly good mentalism effect that anyone can perform, I've already found the perfect slot in my parlour routine."

- Nick Einhorn

"I'm always asked at gigs if I can predict the lottery numbers... and now I can - Thanks for releasing this Paul."

- Mark Williams

"I can't tell you the pleasure I've had playing with Paul's Balls for the last few months."

- Jamie Raven

"I was lucky to get this before it came out and I used it to great effect over all my Christmas Gigs, the reactions were great!"

- Lee Hathaway

"This is a real workers' effect that can be put into any act as an opener, filler or closer!"

- Magic Singh
