

InSight by Manoj Kaushal

From the unpublished ideas of the creator you already know - Manoj Kaushal.

Imagine a drawing duplication where the moment never looks like magic- because everything feels natural.

- They draw anything.
- They hold their card the whole time.
- You never take it, never touch it, and never interfere.

You simply reach into the air above their hand and the impression becomes yours.

The gimmick?

It blends into the world-coming in and out so invisibly that nothing ever feels like a move, a method, or a moment.

A timeless principle finally placed in an object that makes complete sense.

Organic, ordinary, and impossible to suspect.

And the best part?

- The same card stays in their hands from start to finish.
- They draw whatever they want.
- You never handle it-yet you know exactly what they created.

Each unit of InSight comes with a handmade gimmick, crafted for durability and designed for real-world work, along with a detailed instructional video that walks you through the handling, subtleties, and full routine.

This is not just a peek, this is InSight.
