

Vocabulary by Chris Congreave

A self working and hilarious routine that you can make as rude or as warm and fuzzy as you wish.

Easy to perform and just as good for a night down the pub with your mates, or for the happy couple at a wedding!

You can do this to one or two spectators, you can have a riot of fun as you find out more about them and indeed what they think of you....

The ending can be as funny, or as lovely as you wish to make it, depending on how you wish to play it, but they will definitely remember it!
