

The Papilio Experiment by Dead Rebel

Back again with the gorgeous props, enchanting presentation and self-contained, self-working method, The Papilio Experiment might be the best release yet!

With a story about psychic researcher, Dr Nevin, who conducted some tests on people who claimed to have Extra Sensory Perception - not entirely legitimate tests. However, he did find that all of the genuine psychics had something in common... visions of a particular thing...

And with them hooked, they mix a packet of stunning Victorian-style picture cards, and are led to one in particular...

The Papilio Experiment includes the presentation box, vintage style cigarette case, Dr Nevin business card, packet of Victorian images, and prediction card, together with video instructions and routine from Liam Montier!
