

Magical Visions by Matthew Wright

Magical Visions

is an incredible piece of mental magic that allows you to instantly make a thought-of drawing appear on the back of a selected playing card.

A spectator freely thinks of a simple drawing.

They can either secretly draw it (using a simple peek) or openly name it.

They then choose a playing card from the deck.

The card is shown clearly, front and back.

The magician snaps his fingers.

The card is turned over to reveal that the back design has completely vanished - and in its place is the exact drawing the spectator had thought of.

This is mental magic at its most direct and powerful.

And even better - it's incredibly easy to do.

Skill-wise, Magical Visions sits firmly at beginner level, yet delivers the kind of result you would normally expect from a highly skilled, professional magician.

Magical Visions is a complete reworking of Matthew Wright's earlier Visions and Visions 20.20, featuring a brand-new design and a refined approach to the effect.

The method has been stripped back to the bare essentials, leaving behind something that feels clean, modern, and direct.

The result is a modern classic.

Those familiar with the AMi AR version may recognize an early, experimental preview of this concept. Magical Visions represents the fully realized version.
