About the artist:

Nishe (1989) is a traditional artist and graphic designer, founder of the "Futuristic Paintings" style & concept. She has a master degree in Fine Arts from ESAA, a double bachelor degree in traditional Sign Painting & Graphic Design. She works and lives in Avignon, France.

Paintings concept :

Using a combination of sculpted organic textures and geometric futuristic letterings, her work revolves around the meaning of human life in our current digital era.

In a duality between abstract and planned elements, her paintings are confronting the impact of new technologies, using virtual & digital symbols, to traditional mediums (painting).

Her hand-painted artworks are an experiment about keeping and losing control, as a metaphorical representation of an indomitable side of organic elements in opposition to the human need of mastering life. Chaos in control, control in chaos. Technological nature. Post-Digital.
