

Aristoon (Blue) by Ariston

This is an ACAAN on the back of the deck, like a cartoon.

The magician shows a deck of cards with the imagen of a little magician on its back.

Like a cartoon, the little magician shows a white board and a white card.

The spectator select a number between 1 and 52 and any playing card.

When the magician shows the deck again, the little magician shows the selected number printed on the board and the selected card on the other hand.

From another deck always on view, the spectator count the same number of cards and there is the selected playing card.
