

Mind Control Balloon

This original performance, which debuted on a Japanese TV show, quickly became a huge sensation.

A single helium-filled balloon floats quietly in the air-and then begins to move in response to the magician's voice.

"Down."

"Up."

With each command, the balloon rises or descends, coming to a precise stop in midair.

This is not due to random air currents.

Its movements are clearly controlled.

As if understanding words, the balloon moves freely through the space right before the audience's eyes

-until the final command is given:

"POP!"

In that instant, the balloon bursts with a sharp, resounding sound. (Bonus Effect)

An undeniably stunning phenomenon

Performance Features

- A completely clean performance with absolutely no strings used
- No electronic devices required
- Can be performed while surrounded by the audience (360°)
- The balloon can be burst at any desired moment.

Important Notes

- In the Standard Edition, the balloon burst is provided as a bonus effect.
- A special gimmick for bursting the balloon is included, but for the burst effect, you must provide your own specialized liquid, which can be obtained anywhere in the world.

- A separate helium gas cylinder is required for the performance.
