

Intuitive by Marcos Cruz

What if you could discover a flavor using only your intuition?

INTUITIVE is a powerful modern mentalism effect where perception, intuition, and impossibility blend into a fully interactive experience.

The magician presents three cookies of different flavors: classic, vanilla, and strawberry. Alongside them, he shows three cards identifying each flavor and a small, sealed case where the choice will be made.

Everything is given to the spectator.

The magician can turn away, walk offstage, or even remain completely offstage while the participant makes a completely free decision: they select one of the flavors, place it inside the sealed case-impossible to see inside-and put the other cookies in their pocket.

No swaps.

No questions.

No fishing.

When it's all over, the spectator calls the magician back.

Without hesitation, the mentalist takes one of the cards and reveals the exact flavor of the cookie inside the case.

The spectator opens the case... and the prediction is correct.

Every time.

INTUITIVE is designed to create an immediate and memorable reaction. Its dynamic and organic visuals transform an everyday object into an impossible demonstration of true intuition.
