

Pain Game 2.0 by Jon Allen

"I genuinely believe The Pain Game 2.0 is the best and the safest Smash & Stab EVER created!"

Colin McCloud

It's rare that a single product revolutionises a long established effect. The Pain Game did that for Russian Roulette... and now it's even better!

A nail is inserted into a wooden block and placed into a paper bag.

You mix it in with three identical bags.

Someone else then mixes the bags without you seeing.

They choose which three bags you slam your hand down on.

The final bag is opened to show the nail still sticking up out the block.

The Pain Game became the gold standard for a safe and natural looking Russian Roulette. It is used by hundreds of magicians and mentalists around the world and is the method of choice for many elite performers in their TV and theatre shows.

Once set, there is categorically no chance of you impaling your hand on the nail.

For The Pain Game 2.0, the gimmicks have been redesigned to be more sturdy. You can now have someone else push the nail into the block. The blocks are recessed so the nail head sits flat against the base.

If you have been looking for a safe Russian Roulette where you get the dirty work out the way at the start, allowing you to concentrate on the presentation, then you have found the perfect one!

You receive the blocks, gimmicks and 40 bags.
