

Automation Coin in Cup by Martin Schwartz

What does real magic feel like?

Automation allows your spectator to feel real magic.

A spectator holds two stainless steel cups mouth to to mouth. A coin vanishes from the magician's hand and the spectator feels and hears the coin dropping into the cup. The clinging sound and tingling will startle them. The cups are separated and the spectator drops coin out on the table.

The action is happening in their hands. They feel the real magic with automation.

The dropping coin is totally under your control with a 100% reliability. No remote control, batteries, bluetooth, springs, or wires.

Comes with a gogo coin vanisher -no sleight of hand- both hands can be shown empty after the vanish, special gimmick 2 stainless steel cups and video instructions
