

Impression Whiteboard by IARVEL Magic

In a magic era flooded with E-Ink boards, it's easy to feel overwhelmed. Many promise the world, but leave you looking over your shoulder, worrying about laggy responses that kill the moment, clunky setups that break the flow, and complex systems that drain your wallet and your creativity.

The Peek Board by Iarvel Magic was born from a simple belief: you shouldn't have to choose between flawless performance and financial sense. You deserve both.

This is the board that brings it all together. We've engineered the ultimate magical canvas, stripping away the limitations to give you instantaneous impressions, a staggering 60-meter wireless range, computer-level display with an exceptional pixel density, and seamless integration with the entire Iarvel ecosystem—all at a price point that makes true, high-end magic more accessible than ever.

Stop adapting your art to the limits of your tools. It's time for your tools to elevate your art.

BASIC EFFECT:

The Clock of Fate

Imagine this: You draw a simple analogue clock on the Peek Board, showing a random time—let's say, 3:45. You cover the board, completely obscuring it from view. You then turn to a spectator and ask, "Think of a significant time in your life—the moment you woke up today, the time of a first meeting, anything at all."

They name a time. "11:20."

To reinforce its freedom of choice, you gently ask, "Are you certain? You can change it if you wish." They confirm. The decision is locked in, 100% theirs. You then reveal the board.

There it is. The clock you drew minutes ago now displays the exact, specific time they just named from a universe of possibilities. The hands have moved. The impossible has happened. And you can repeat this miracle moments later with another spectator and another time, each reveal more devastating than the last.

The Prophetic Card

Now, imagine a different kind of miracle. You write the suit and number of a playing card on the board. You place the board face down, its prediction hidden. You bring out a deck of cards and have a spectator freely select any card. They could even shuffle the deck themselves.

"You are in complete control," you say. "Look at your card. Do you love it? Would you like to change it for another?" They affirm their choice. The card is theirs, a product of pure chance.

You then turn over the Peek Board and reveal that you wrote the same card's suit and number down even before the act started.

Imagine the look on the spectator's face. You literally left their jaws dropping to the ground. These are just a negligible fraction of the crazy ways you can leave your spectators amazed with the Peek Board.

WHAT MAKES THE PEEK BOARD STAND OUT

INSTANTANEOUS IMPRESSIONS WITH ZERO LATENCY

Forget the agonizing 35-second wait that plagues other boards. The Peek Board operates in real-time. As the spectator's marker touches the surface, the impression is already being sent. This eliminates the "magical pause" that can kill suspense and raise suspicion. Your reveals are now instantaneous and utterly impossible. This is powered by our proprietary I-Chip™, a processor designed solely for magical computation, ensuring that the only thing lagging is your audience's ability to process what they've just witnessed.

UNRIVALED RANGE: Stage-Grade Wireless Range.

Don't be chained to your props. With a class-leading 60-meter (200-foot) wireless range, the Peek Board shatters the boundaries of close-up magic. Perform for a living room or a lecture hall with absolute confidence. Walk among your audience, pass the board freely, and create moments of magic anywhere in the room. Your creativity is no longer limited by a signal radius.

CRYSTAL-CLEAR DISPLAY: Unmatched Visual Authenticity.

A routine is only as powerful as it is believable. While other boards produce pixelated, artificial-looking impressions, the Peek Board features a high-resolution computer-level display with an exceptional pixel density. Every line, number, and clock hand appears sharp, clean, and perfectly authentic-as if drawn by an invisible marker just moments before. This unparalleled visual clarity eliminates any doubt in the spectator's mind, ensuring the only thing they question is reality, not your props.

THE IARVEL ECOSYSTEM: Your Central Command for Wonder.

The Peek Board doesn't just work alone; it's the brain of your magical operation. Through the free larvel App, it seamlessly syncs with the entire larvel family-our watches, pads, and remotes.

- Multi-Device control & Revelations: Imagine a thought-of card appearing simultaneously on the Peek Board, your larvel app, and even on your connected apple watch or being able to write something on your little post-it pad that affects the reveal on the board and the time on your larvel watch. The impossibility multiplies.

- Dedicated Remote Control: For purists who demand the absolute most deceptive workflow, connect the device to any of our remotes to allow for silent, app-free control. Input numbers, trigger modes, or orchestrate complex routines without ever touching your phone. Most importantly, unlike other boards, our device comes with a storage memory of its own which houses everything you would need for a routine, no matter how complicated it is, without connecting it to your phone.

AFFORDABLE EXCELLENCE: Our Promise, Made Real.
