

Digital Penetration by David Penn & TCC Magic

A solid die penetrates straight through a spectator's mobile phone.

From the moment of its launch, Digital Penetration caused a sensation on social media: its demo video surpassed 1 million views in 24 hours and sold out in just two days at the Blackpool Magic Convention.

The premise is as bold as it is simple: borrow a spectator's phone and place it inside an elegant leather case. A solid die is set on top. With a firm press, the die visibly melts through the screen, passes entirely through the phone, and drops out the bottom of the case.

The spectator catches the die in their own hands. They remove their phone: no cracks, no scratches, no explanation.

The magic happens with their phone. The audience sees the penetration, catches the falling die, and feels its weight. It's a miracle to experience firsthand.

Premium Microfiber Leather: The outer layer offers a refined, sophisticated feel suited to any professional setting.

Soft Velvet Lining: A plush interior cradles and protects the spectator's phone throughout the routine.

- Easy to Perform: No difficult moves required.
- Clear Tutorial: Even beginners can perform with confidence after a short practice session.
- Perfect for Any Venue: Whether it's a casual gathering, a bustling bar, or a corporate stage, the visual of a die passing through a phone is universally stunning.
