

Smart-Ass Index Cards by Bill Abbott

The bullet-proof force that has captured the imagination of both performers and audiences alike is now in an all-new format that puts YOU in the creative driver's seat.

The Smart Ass Index Cards are Large Lined Index style cards that are a common object your audience can recognize right away. BUT because of the Smart Ass forcing methodology hidden within, it gives you the power to force literally anything! Any object, location, name, product, person, animal, etc. There is no limit.

These Smart Ass Index Cards are NOT over the counter index cards. We made these from the ground up and they are thick custom made cards with a linen finish, similar to the way premium playing cards are finished.

And although they are not actual index cards they APPEAR exactly like index cards to the audience. The thickness accommodates large bold printed names and designs on them with no bleed through.

These index cards are the largest Smart Ass cards we have ever produced. At a whopping 4 x 6 inches in size they can be seen at the back of the biggest theater or banquet hall with no video support needed! The cards come inside a beautiful hard shell carrying box - that looks exactly like you just bought them from an office supply store!

Reset from show to show is a breeze and only takes a few seconds. And with the index cards you can work your routine in a large venue, and because of the devious method, you can also perform it up close at a house party or parlor sized room.

The Smart Ass Index Cards are a perfect addition to your Nobrainer prediction or other similar type of revelation when you need the perfect force of anything you can write on the cards.
