

Coin Thru Anything by Nathan Kranzo & TCC Magic

Let a Coin Pass Through the Impossible!

As a coin slowly drops through the dark window, you place your hand in its path. In an instant, the coin visibly passes straight through the obstruction, leaving your palm completely unharmed. This is Coin Thru Anything.

The central open-window design gives you remarkable flexibility. You can insert your hand, a phone wrapped in silk, or a card to create the stunning illusion of a coin passing through a solid object. This open-ended, interactive structure moves beyond the limits of traditional props, giving each performance a wide range of possibilities.

The gimmick is simple, clever, and highly concealed. Before or after the routine, you can confidently hand the prop to your audience for close inspection, helping dispel suspicion. Even when they examine the center gap up close, they will be unable to discover the secret, leaving only amazement and confusion behind.

Coin Thru Anything is crafted from wood with a black painted finish, making it durable and resistant to fading. The hidden gimmick is built into the gap, while the interior has been specially treated with a slightly rough, fuzzy texture. This creates a natural velvet-like surface that allows the coin to slide through in complete silence. In particular, no sound is produced when the coin enters the gimmick or shifts slightly inside it.
