Introducing DROP

A signed coin.

A borrowed glass.

One impossible moment.

A spectator signs a coin. You borrow a glass and place it upside down on the table. The signed coin is pressed against the bottom of the glass. There is nothing to cover, nothing to conceal, and nowhere for the coin to go. Then, with a gentle push, the impossible happens. The coin visibly penetrates the solid glass and instantly appears beneath it. The glass is lifted. The signature is still there. The coin never changed.

DROP is a practical, highly visual coin-through-glass effect designed for real-world performance. Using a borrowed glass and a signed coin, it creates a moment that feels completely impossible while remaining simple and reliable to perform. Professionally crafted with premium materials, every gimmick arrives ready to use right out of the box.

No DIY work.

No complicated setup.

Just put it in your pocket and you're always ready to perform.
