

Ding Ding Production

The performer fully displays a folding panel made up of five sections, joined together with cloth tape. He holds it vertically, showing both the front and back to prove there is nothing hidden. He then folds the panels accordion-style, one over the other... And from inside them, as if by magic, he produces silk streamers, scarves, ribbons, or other items!

- Production material is not included and can be purchased separately.
- The panel, made of sturdy cardboard, measures 53 cm high and 45.5 cm wide when fully opened and laid flat.
