

The Holy Ribbon

The magician shows a wooden triangle frame with a ribbon passing through two side slots. The audience may examine both the ends of the ribbon. For extra fairness, two spectators may sign the ends of the ribbon. The magician cuts the ribbon from the centre with a pair of scissors. The two cut pieces clearly separate inside the frame.

With a magical gesture, the magician pulls the ribbon ends, and the ribbon instantly becomes whole again. The ribbon is removed from the frame and handed to the audience for examination. The audience finds the ribbon completely restored with no sign of any cut!

- Crafted with care from teak wood.
- The frame features a 21 cm base (8.27"), 15 cm sloping sides (5.91"), and a depth of 4 cm (1.57").
