

Cards Across Pls (Red Backs)

Cards Across PLUS takes the classic Cards Across plot and gives it an unexpected visual ending.

Two spectators each hold a packet of cards. Without the cards ever visibly traveling between them, cards impossibly vanish from one spectator's packet and appear in the other.

A familiar classic, finished with a completely unexpected kicker.

BASIC EFFECT

Two spectators are each given a packet of playing cards.

The magician causes cards to invisibly travel from Spectator A's packet to Spectator B's. The cards are counted, and the impossible transfer is confirmed. Then comes the finale.

For the final surprise, the faces on the cards vanish — and ALL of them appear together on a single card.

Just when the audience thinks the Cards Across routine is over, the impossible happens one more time.

KEY FEATURES

- Classic Cards Across with a Kicker

A familiar and easy-to-follow plot, taken one step further with an unexpected final transformation.

- Two-Phase Visual Climax

The first impossible transfer feels like the ending — before a highly visual final revelation takes the routine even further.

- Strong Spectator Involvement

The magic happens between two spectators, making the effect direct, interactive, and easy for the entire audience to follow.

- Simple. Direct. Memorable.

A clear plot with an escalating structure and a finale that gives the classic Cards Across effect a fresh ending.
